

CIGAR MENU

Hoyo De Monterrey Double Coronas 235
Mild bodied with a combination of sweet spices and coffee notes.

H Upmann Half Corona 130
Shortness in size but never gives up the full sensation one expects from a true Habano.

Romeo y Julieta No.2 AT 130
Cocoa and cedar undertones which then becomes herbaceous on the palate making this mild bodied cigar quite delightful.

Romeo y Julieta Short Churchills 190
A peppery display of earthy and spicy hints on the palate.

Romeo y Julieta Petit Churchills 190
The start of the cigar is leathery with roasted nutty aromas but then its pace and intensity surprises.

Cohiba Siglo No. 2 210
*Creamy sweetness, medium bean notes and also medium tobacco taste.
Overall rich with an inviting aroma and a good draw.*

Montecristo No. 2 235
Stocky, dark and pointed. Powerful from the start. With rich but not overwhelming flavors of leather, such sweet spices as cinnamon and nutmeg and the cigar's trademark tangy wood note.

Montecristo No. 4 130
*Earthy in the beginning followed by spice in the second third.
Closer to the end, soft notes of coffee and cocoa appear.*

Montecristo No. 5 130
*Superior short smoke. Medium to Full bodied that is strong but never harsh.
Smooth flavor with a very good draw.*

Cohiba Robustos 315
Complex because of its full bodied strength and excellent joint. Starts off toasty, succeeded by cedary undertones and hints of honey. Finishes off with creamy cocoa notes.

Partagas Series E No. 2 190
*Beautiful creamy smoke with full bodied flavor. Excellent construction draw that gets better as you smoke it.
You will find the traditional heavy earthy and peppery tastes blended in with robust tobacco.*

Bolivar Belicosos 160
*Nice spice that hits followed by a mix of woody and roasted animal notes.
Then comes the thick and creamy mix on the palate. Full in flavor.*
